Introduction

The Nonpublic Postsecondary Education Commission (NPEC/the Commission) was established by the passage of the Nonpublic Postsecondary Educational Institutions Act of 1990 by the Georgia General Assembly. The agency staff began operations on April 10, 1991, and the first Board of Commissioners were appointed by the Governor in 1992. Prior to the creation of NPEC, the Georgia Department of Education was responsible for regulating non-degree granting institutions (under the Proprietary School Act) and degree granting institutions (under the Postsecondary Educational Authorization Act). The Nonpublic Postsecondary Educational Institutions Act of 1990 repealed these earlier statutes and consolidated regulatory authority within the Commission.

As of 2015, NPEC is the agency that houses the Georgia Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (GA-SARA). This program is part of a national interstate compact that allows public and private colleges and universities the ability to offer online programming to students across the country without incurring additional authorization fees in other states.

Though the agency has transitioned to permanent remote work, the NPEC administrative office is in Tucker in the Georgia Student Finance Commission building. The Nonpublic Postsecondary Education Commission is attached to the Georgia Student Finance Commission for administrative purposes only.

Comments from the Executive Director

The Nonpublic Postsecondary Education Commission (NPEC) provides a service to Georgia's citizens by authorizing and regulating the operations of for-profit and not-for-profit private postsecondary institutions. Additionally, it is responsible for oversight of out-of-state public and private institutions that choose to operate in Georgia.

NPEC is leading the way in modernizing higher education regulation. Agency staff continue to work remotely and have used remote work to successfully retain staff at a time in which other state agencies are struggling to recruit and retain workers.

In Fiscal Year 2023, NPEC participated in an action research project for eight months. As part of this project, the agency learned that its staff perceived the agency to have a weak organizational culture. As such, action research participants undertook the task of both formalizing the agency's culture and working on ways to better disseminate the culture. Out of this process, the agency established a culture statement and motto, worked to rebrand the agency with these culture pieces, developed new hiring protocols, revised job descriptions to better help recruit individuals who are likely to fit into the culture and persist with the agency, revised the agency onboarding/training manual, developed an employee handbook, created a remote manager training handbook, and developed a staff recognition plan. Each of these areas helped to build the organizational culture of the agency and participants perceived these changes to have a positive impact on job satisfaction, worker morale, and retention.

On behalf of the Commission, thank you for your support of our vision to promote excellence, efficiency, and systematic improvement in the regulation of nonpublic postsecondary institutions to ensure quality education for improving the workforce in Georgia and the lives of Georgia's citizens.

Kirk Shook

Executive Director

Organization

This agency administers the Nonpublic Postsecondary Educational Institutions Act of 1990 by providing ongoing assessment and evaluation of private postsecondary institutions operating in the state. Oversight is achieved through review and processing of institutional applications and inspection of in-state physical facilities, investigation of student complaints, and facilitation of institutional closures and the resulting surrendered student records. Additionally, staff regularly propose new or revised policies and procedures in the aim of enhancing Commission operation and effectiveness, reducing regulatory burdens on institutions while balancing student interests, and consumer advocacy.

Mission

The agency's mission is to ensure that each authorized nonpublic postsecondary educational institution in Georgia is satisfying its commitments to hardworking Georgians through sound academics and financial stability.

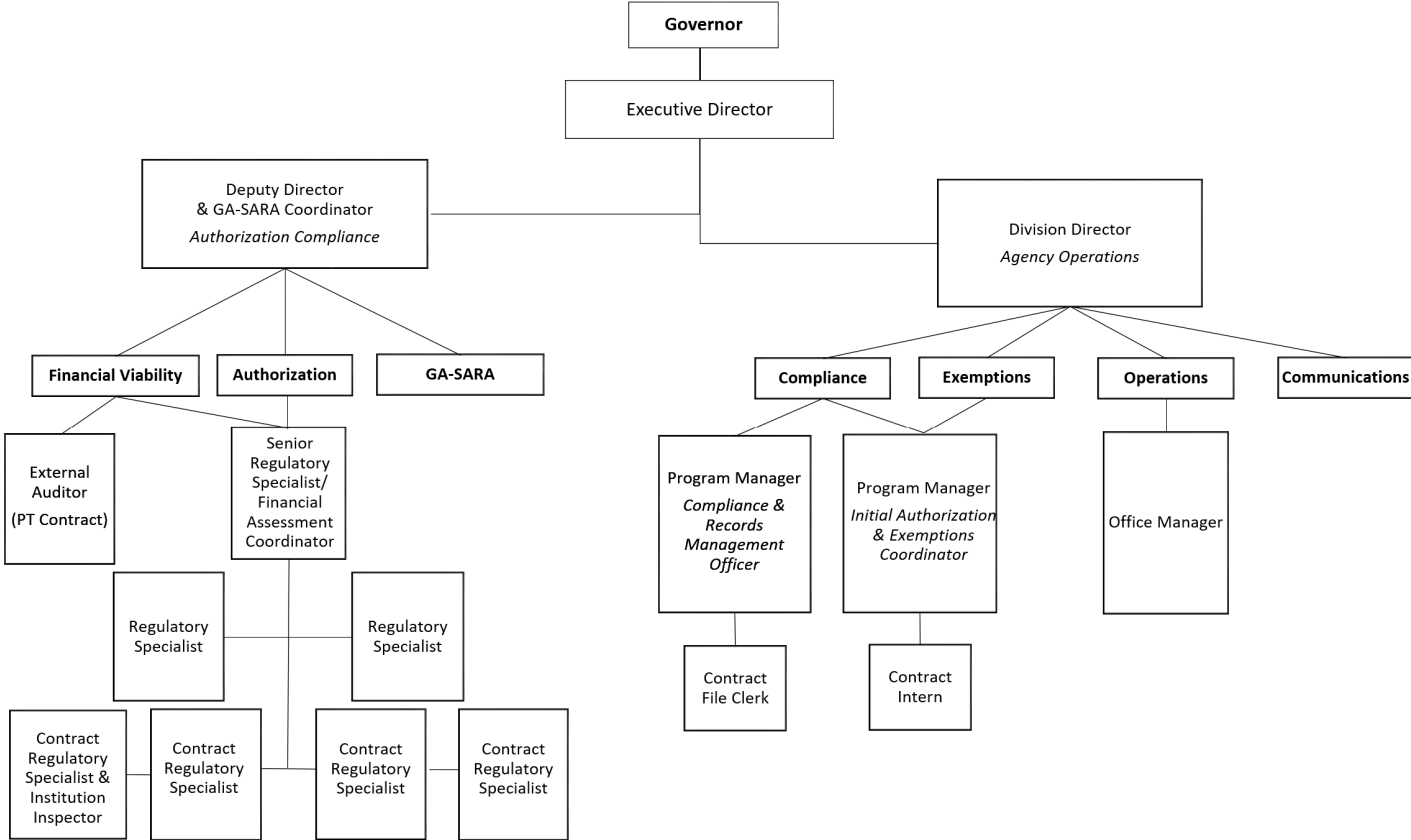

Vision

The vision of the agency is to promote excellence, efficiency, and systematic improvement in the regulation of nonpublic postsecondary educational institutions to ensure quality education for improving the workforce in Georgia and the lives of Georgia's citizens.

Core Values

The agency provides the critical consumer protection functions of assuring prospective and enrolled students that the institutions regulated meet minimum standards and assuring prospective employers that graduates have acquired appropriate job skills while balancing the regulatory burdens that Georgia institutions face to provide educational programming to students.

Appropriations and Revenue Collections

NPEC is a revenue generating agency primarily resulting from fee collections required as part of institutional applications for annual authorization, which are based on tuition received by an institution during its most recently completed fiscal year or, in the case of initial authorizations, projections for the first year of authorization. In addition, other fees are based on specific services performed by NPEC such as approval of a change of ownership, evaluation of proposed new programs and updates to administrative records. Fees are also collected for transcript requests, as part of applications for exemptions, and for financial viability assessments. Revenue collections for Fiscal Year 2023 were $1,077,600. Additionally, NPEC collects funds from select institutions for the Tuition Guaranty Trust Fund that are maintained by the agency for students adversely affected by precipitous closures. These collections are detailed in another area of this report (starting on p. 36).

NPEC's state appropriation for its Fiscal Year 2023 annual operating budget was $980,382. No federal funds are received.

Regulatory Compliance

O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.8 requires each nonpublic postsecondary educational institution desiring to operate or conduct postsecondary activities in Georgia to file an application for authorization. To ensure application of the law governing this agency and its associated institutions, regulatory compliance is central to NPEC operations. This is achieved through the authorization process, which includes application review and critique, curriculum evaluation, complaint mediation, and, for in-state institutions, annual campus visits. Curriculum evaluation occurs when an institution proposes a new or modified program. This process may require the formation of a committee, made up of an expert or team of experts who specialize in the field of instruction of the proposed program, who will offer a recommendation to NPEC as to its quality. All compliance activities are reviewed by multiple NPEC professional staff persons for accuracy, consistency, and adequacy and then are recorded electronically in a customized agency database. This permits easy and secure access to all relevant institutional documentation associated with NPEC oversight. Authorization differs from accreditation in that accreditation is a voluntary process in which educational institutions of higher learning are evaluated by a peer review board whose members include faculty from various accredited colleges and universities. Whereas NPEC is the state's arm in regulating postsecondary education, recognized accreditors are granted authority by the United States Department of Education to accredit institutions, which will in turn qualify to receive federal financial aid.

Additionally, certain institutions are exempted from seeking authorization; alternatively, those institutions seek a Notice of Exemption, the details about which are expanded upon in the section titled Postsecondary Institutions Exempted from Authorization.

Academic Record Keeping

NPEC requires that authorized institutions maintain student academic records in a prescribed format. This not only allows for consistent student access but also supports the transfer of student records to the agency with a minimum of difficulty in the event the institution closes. O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.17 mandates such transfer to the state/NPEC, and institutions are required to provide a signed Record Agreement annually as part of the Renewal of Authorization Application. In addition to stipulations associated with closure, this document also provides requirements for ongoing record maintenance while the institution is in operation. With regards to academic records of closed institutions previously authorized by NPEC, the Commission is responsible for fielding transcript requests from students and/or approved representatives. While inquiries are made through an electronic form available on the NPEC website, as of June 30, 2023, 1,107 boxes of student records from closed institutions are stored at the State Records Center. In FY23, due to on-going student digitization process by a full-time contract File Clerk, the number of boxes stored at the State Records Center has been reduced by 193 boxes since June 30, 2022, and 1,863 boxes since June 30, 2019. One NPEC staff member is assigned the responsibility of processing transcript requests, which typically number between 700-800 annually. Additionally, in the case of an institutional closure, any paper records received are digitized so as to not accumulate paper records.

Institutional Closures

In Fiscal Year 2023, twenty-five (25) NPEC authorized institutions closed. During closings, NPEC staff typically work with the institution’s representatives, students, and other institutions to provide students with the opportunity to complete their programs of study either at the closing institution or at another institution. Student academic records were sought upon receipt of notification of each closure. To provide student access, records were then either transferred to the State Records Center or to other active campuses of the closed institution. When an institution or campus ceases operations, it is an institutional closure and pursuant to O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.17, institutions are required to provide academic records to NPEC.

Additionally, fourteen (14) formerly authorized institutions became recognized in Georgia as SARA participants; therefore, they no longer needed to maintain authorization, and nineteen (19) institutions transitioned from authorization to exemption from authorization due to the expansion of eligibility for exemption of that offer “out of the box” training, training that is developed and licensed by an industry recognized certification provider and unaltered by the institution, in accordance with O.C.G.A. 20-3-250.3(a)(2) effective July 1, 2022.

Student Complaints

To provide consumer protection, O.C.G.A. §§ 20-3-250.5(c)(5) & 20-3-250.3(a)(7), (10), (11), (14) provides NPEC with the lawful responsibility to investigate complaints filed against institutions. NPEC requires that complaint policies of authorized institutions include a student’s right to appeal an institution’s final determination with NPEC. Complaints are submitted electronically on the NPEC website, and a full investigation is completed by the NPEC staff person responsible for the compliance review of the institution. This process involves consultation with appropriate institution officials upon receipt of a complaint and visitation to institutions, as needed. NPEC regards the prompt resolution of complaints from students as a high priority of the agency. In addition to formal complaints, NPEC responds to all inquiries and concerns made by students regarding the institution at which they are enrolled. In Fiscal Year 2023, NPEC investigated eighty-one (81) student complaints.

SARA State Portal Entity

The State of Georgia became a member of the National Council for State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (NC-SARA) in October 2015. As the state coordinating “portal” agency, NPEC assures that institutions which are SARA-approved in their own states follow NC-SARA policy in providing on-line programming to residents of Georgia. NPEC reviews applications from Georgia institutions wanting to become SARA-approved by the state so that those institutions may offer online programming to residents of other states. NPEC also serves as the agent for complaints filed relative to Georgia-SARA approved institutions and facilitates the resolution of complaints filed by Georgia residents relative to out-of-state institutions.

During Fiscal Year 2023, a total of eighty-eight (88) Georgia institutions were SARA-approved through NPEC action and became institutional members of NC-SARA. Of these, twenty-six (26) were University System of Georgia institutions, twenty-two (22) were Technical College System of Georgia institutions, and forty (40) were Georgia nonpublic degree granting accredited institutions.

The most recent data available (ending FY22) shows that 78,229 students located in Georgia took online courses at an out-of-state institution participating in SARA, and 48,685 out-of-state students took online courses at a Georgia institution participating in SARA.

Participation in SARA is of great benefit to the state of Georgia. In 2018, the National Center for Higher Education Management Systems conducted a return-on-investment study that estimated that colleges and universities in Georgia saved $7.7 million for initial authorization and annually saves $2.2 million on renewal applications. By contrast, in FY22, the eighty-seven (88) Georgia institutions participating in GA-SARA paid a combined $422,500 in fees to participate—$148,500 to GA-SARA and $274,000 to NC-SARA.

Postsecondary Institutions Exempted from Authorization

Pursuant to O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.3, certain postsecondary educational institutions are not subject to the Nonpublic Postsecondary Educational Institutions Act of 1990; therefore, they are excluded from NPEC authorization (i.e., “exempt”).

Under O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.3(a)(4), all state operated higher education institutions are exempt from NPEC authorization as are the thirty-six (36) independent private colleges and universities [O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.3(a)(10), (11), (13) and (14)].

Under O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.3(a)(4), institutions that are regulated by other state agencies are exempt from authorization, such as those regulated by licensing boards under the Georgia Secretary of State or Board of Nursing. Some examples include cosmetology, select nursing programs, barbering, truck driving, and real estate institutions.

Under O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.3(a)(6), eighty-six (86) religious institutions are exempt from NPEC authorization. Annually, each religious institution must demonstrate to NPEC that the institution grants only religious degrees and/or certificates; does not receive federal or state funds; and does not accept students using federal or state loans to attend.

Additionally, as set forth by O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.3(a), NPEC exempts numerous “other” institutions that meet the exemption criteria that include education solely avocational or recreational in nature, flight training schools approved by the Federal Aviation Administration, test and tax preparation, institutions on military installments solely for the education of military personnel and their dependents, and education sponsored by a trade, business, or fraternal organization solely for that organization’s membership.

Site Visit Reports

Pursuant to O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.8(c), NPEC is responsible for in-state “on-site inspections of the physical facility in which the institution will be operating.” In accordance with O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.8(g), such on-site inspections are also required for Renewal of Authorization applications. Additionally, NPEC completes other visits as deemed necessary by staff for the purpose of ensuring compliance with the Minimum Standards. In FY23, 263 site visits were conducted. As a note, legislative changes effective July 1, 2021 allowed NPEC to conduct virtual site visits for qualifying institutions, which are reflected below.

ADVERSE ACTIONS

NPEC is responsible for ensuring compliance with applicable state laws and associated policies and procedures. As such, adverse actions are the official activities completed by the agency when an institution fails to comply with key directives, such as requiring Authorization, taking down programmatic advertisements, and surrendering student records.

A common adverse action is the notification to an institution that it is operating without Authorization. This is first communicated with a cease-and-desist warning email and, if needed, a follow up formal cease-and-desist email. Information detailing the Authorization process as well as agency contacts are also provided. In FY23, eight (8) such cease and desist emails were sent.

Should the noncomplying institution fail to adequately respond to the cease-and-desist email, a cease-and-desist letter is sent certified to the address of record as well as to the email of record. Formal Closure, Notification of Noncompliance, and Student Record Demand Letters, either directing the institution to cease operation until Authorization is obtained or to surrender student records in accordance with O.C.G.A. § 20-3-250.17, respectively, are also sent by NPEC. These are sent certified to the address of record as well as the email of record. In FY23, four (4) cease and desist letters and three (3) record demand letters were sent.

If it becomes clear the agency is not having success communicating with a noncomplying institution, NPEC will request action from the Office of the Attorney General of Georgia. In FY23, one (1) such request was made. Additionally, one (1) complaint was filed by the Attorney General on behalf of NPEC against a noncomplying institution.

GNPEC also publishes Consumer Alerts on its website. In FY23, four (4) such alerts were posted.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY

GNPEC did not experience any legislative changes 2023 Session.

FINANCIAL VIABILITY ASSESSMENTS

O.C.G.A. §§ 20-3-250.6(a)(1)(H) & 20-3-250.6(c) establishes that authorized and exempt institutions must meet the standards to be financially sound and capable of fulfilling their commitments to students. Beginning in April 2015, NPEC implemented a rigorous financial viability assessment (FVA) of authorized institutions to prioritize institutional fiscal stability as part of the overall evaluation required for authorization and to protect the TGTF. Proactive review and communication with the institutions has assisted NPEC to enhance its planning of potential teach-outs and estimations of student reimbursements, both of which are often required in the case of institutional closures.

The financial viability assessment at NPEC is achieved through a collaborative review of financial documentation submitted by authorized institutions, completed by both NPEC professional staff and an external auditor. For all authorized and “audit only” exempt institutions, financial viability assessments are completed annually. In both NC-SARA and GA-SARA applications, a Department of Education Financial Responsibility Composite Score is a required component. For those GA-SARA applicants/renewing institutions that do not participate in Title IV (Federal Financial Aid) or whose Composite Scores are between 1.00 and 1.5, NPEC conducts a financial viability assessment. In Fiscal Year 2023, three hundred and sixty-four (364) authorized institutions, forty (40) audit and bond only exempt institutions, and two (2) composite scores were calculated and confirmed for two SARA institutions that did not have a composite score produced by Federal Student Aid. The possible outcomes are as follows:

Low Financial Monitoring – The institution is found to be without significant findings to doubt concern of its financial viability. It has satisfied indicators of sound financial health. Examples include the provision of financial information demonstrating current assets that exceed current liabilities and reflect a positive net working capital, profit, or surplus from the prior fiscal year. Additionally, if applicable, the institution indicates a low risk of stocks to assets and meets United States Department of Education (USDOE) requirements.

Moderate Financial Monitoring – The institution’s financial stability is found to be in question. There are some findings that have raised concerns over the financial viability of the institution, but they are not significant. An institution with some findings may be required to provide specified documentation (e.g., Audit) or show improvement in its financial position within a set period. The institution may be asked to provide a Financial Improvement Plan (FIP). If it is required to provide the FIP, the institution will be subject to the “Financial Improvement Plan Guidelines” provided on the GNPEC website.

High Financial Monitoring – There are significant findings to raise concern over the financial viability of the institution. If an institution is found to need High Financial Monitoring, its financial position suggests a high risk of closure. If an institution is found to need High Financial Monitoring, it will be required to provide a financial improvement plan (FIP). It will be subject to the “Financial Improvement Plan Guidelines” provided on the GNPEC website.

An institution may be required to produce some type of documentation or show proof of a change in its financial position before full authorization is given. The timeline for producing the documentation or making the improvement will be given by the program manager or auditor. The requirements and timeline will be communicated to the institution by the RS unless a teach-out plan is required. When a teach-out plan is required, the Deputy Director will send an official notice on GNPEC letterhead. If an institution is required to provide a “Teach-out Plan”, the institution must at the same time provide GNPEC with transcripts for all previously graduated students and provide the transcripts on a quarterly basis.

TUITION GUARANTY TRUST FUND ACTIVITIES

O.C.G.A. §20-3-250.27 created the Tuition Guaranty Trust Fund (TGTF), which is designed to provide a teach-out or refund to students at institutions that close and fail to honor commitments to complete the students' programs of study. The TGTF serves as an insurance pool of funds available for students of closed institutions. NPEC adopted a fee structure, based upon one-tenth of one percent of the institutions' annual gross tuition receipts. Beginning in July 1992, authorized institutions began to make annual payments to the TGTF. In accordance with O.C.G.A. §§ 20-3-250.27(e) & 20-3-250.27(h), the following chart reflects the activities of the TGTF over the past eight years and the financial strength of the fund. Teach-out of Students is the cost associated with the completion of a course of study at another institution following the closure of an institution. Refund of Tuition is the amount of reimbursement paid to students should they be unable or unwilling to complete their programs elsewhere.
