PWC has agreed to accept the transfer of all successfully completed work from Omnitech Institute as represented on the official transcript submitted to NPEC by Omnitech Institute. Courses required to complete the program will be provided and compensation will be paid directly to PWC Training by the Tuition Guaranty Trust Fund as approved by vote of the Nonpublic Postsecondary Education Commission to allow you to complete your program.

However, the following criteria will apply:

1. You must have been enrolled as an active student at the time of the Omnitech closure on September 29, 2023.
2. You must enroll with PWC Training by June 1, 2024.
3. You will be responsible for enrolling with PWC Training, following all guidelines and requirements, including completing any onboarding, training, etc. associated with starting the program.
4. You will be subject to all institutional policies (academic, attendance, student conduct, etc.)
5. You will receive a maximum of 4 test vouchers from PWC Training, allowing 1 attempt each, upon completion of your qualifying program.
6. If you drop or withdraw from enrollment from the teach out arrangement at PWC Training, no further opportunity for reimbursement or teach out will be provided by NPEC.
7. You will be provided with one attempt per subject – if you fail the course for any reason, you will be responsible for any cost to retake the course.
8. This teach out opportunity is the only option for indemnification approved by the Commission for students enrolled at the time of closure of Omnitech Institute to complete their programs.

I have read and understand the requirements for undertaking the teach out opportunity being provided by NPEC through PWC Training.
